

Doctoral workshop on “Economic Policy, Growth and Business Cycles”, June 17-19, 2005

Call for papers

Doctoral students registered in one of the participating institutions and working in the field of macroeconomics are invited to submit a (draft) paper before May 3 to one of the organizers. The doctoral workshop will take place in a former Carmelite monastery in Matagne-la-Petite in the Walloon countryside. It starts on Friday 17 June at 8 pm, and ends on Sunday 19 June at 5 pm. The selected participants will have the occasion to present and discuss their work with specialists in the field. Participants are expected to stay during the whole workshop. The workshop is followed by a conference in Ghent.

With the participation of: Ben Heijdra (University of Groningen), Omar Licandro (European University Institute), Frank Portier (Université de Toulouse), Victor Rios-Rull (University of Pennsylvania).

Organizers: David de la Croix [delacroix@ires.ucl.ac.be] & Freddy Heylen [Freddy.heylen@UGent.be].

Scientific committee: Raouf Boucekkine (CORE & IRES), David de la Croix (CORE & IRES), Hans Degryse (KUL), Freddy Heylen (UGent), Paul Reding (FUNDP).

Participating Institutions:

CORE and IRES, Université catholique de Louvain

CES, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven

GEQO, Facultés Universitaires Notre-Dame de la Paix

Sherppa, Faculteit Economie en Bedrijfskunde, Universiteit Gent

Funding: Belgian Science Policy (PAI/UAP program “Equilibrium theory and optimization for public policy and industry regulation”)